Giants Trim Braves In a Double-Header

FROM CORNELL McGraw Men Continue Their Mad Dash Toward Pennant by Scoring Two Victories in Hubtown and Now Hold Second Place - Fletcher Stars in Pinch.

[By Telegraph to The Tribune.]

Boston, May 27.-Full steam ahead and battle flags flying, the Giants continue their mad dash through the National League. They walloped the faltering Boston Braves in both games of a double-header here this afternoon, and in doing it won their sixteenth consecutive victory since they left the Polo Grounds on May 9 with an average of .133.

New York rose to second place in the league, for the Phillies dropped both games of a double-header to the Robins down in the Quaker City

Feature Facts for the Fans

By BRIGGS

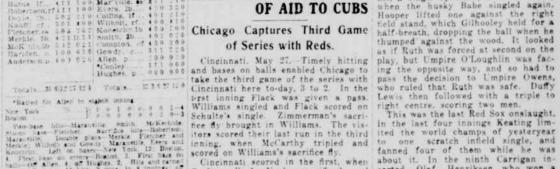

By defeating the Boston Braves twice the Glants increased their winning streak to sixteen straight. Brooklyn took the lead in the Na tional League by defeating the Phillies twice. The Giants moved into second place.

The Yankees' brand new winning streak is now five games old by virtue of the third consecutive victory from the Red Sox.

Lee Magee made three hits, one of them a double, in four times at bat. Buck Wheat made six hits in eight A pitched ball hit Chief Meyers in the head and bounded into the upper tier of the grandstand. In shutting out the Phillies with four hits Coombs allowed no runner beyond second base.

With a lead of four runs to work on, Mr. Keating began to feel better about it. Ray hadn't been able to win a game since one of those warm days last summer, and he was beginning to wonder whether the time had arrived wonder whether the time had arrived to take gas or merely jump off some tall bridge. He felt that, if ever, this was the time and the occasion to break into a winning mood. Keating fed the Red Sox a number of passes at the start, but he had allowed only one base hit a single by Ruth until the fifth hit, a single by Ruth, until the fifth, when the husky Babe singled again, Hooper lifted one against the right field stand, which Gilhooley held for a

Gobboons of Glory

There were any number of spectacular plays made in the course of the afternoon, and there was glory enough for both sides.

In the second inning of the final game Kauff made a wonderful running catto for a drive by Konetchy. The ball was billed for the fences, away and out, but Kauff turned with the crack of the bat and just made connections by hopping up to grab the ball over his shoulder.

Fletcher was as busy as could be all afternoon, and made a couple of good plays that failed to find a place in the box score. However, he did not compilan.
